

AFTER CARE Microblading and Powder Brows

How you treat your beautiful new brows over the next 10-14 days will ultimately determine their final appearance and longevity. Please follow these instructions carefully for best results:

> Today: wipe your brows every 10-15 min using a wet cotton pad, wiping them for about 1-2 hours, remove all oozing lymph .
Towards the evening wash your brows with mild soap and if you feel dry lymph fluid on them wash it off.

Continue to keep your brows dry, check if lymph is still oozing wash again with soap after 1 hour, then keep brows dry wiping gently with paper towel.

Be certain that your brows is absolutely dry and stop oozing before go to sleep

> Day 2 and On --- Two times a day following your procedure, please apply your aftercare balm to your brows (Microbalm or A & D ) Never let you're your brows feel tight, or completely dry. Hydration is key. Continue for 4-10 days depending on your skin type

> If you followed Day 1 instructions correctly your healing scab will be very thin. When the scab peels or cracks, do not scratch or remove it, this can create a micro scars. If you want you can add some gentle makeup in between scabs to make brows looks more even,

> During time with scab please, do not:

- scratch
- remove the scan by force
- take a hot or long showers
- No direct Sun Exposure
- put any other creams on brows

> Swelling is normal after Microblading, and can be managed with soft gel ice packs. Place chilled (not frozen) gel packs in plastic baggies before applying. This is to protect your brows from coming into contact with moisture.

> Please note that some pigment may rub off, so take precautions to protect good linens and towels. The pigment will be a few shades darker for the first few days while your brows heal. Please avoid using brow makeup during the initial healing time.

> Pools, Jacuzzis, tanning, excess sweating, facials, Botox, and saunas should be avoided for at least 10 days after the procedure, or until the procedure area is fully healed. Skin creams and products containing Retin-A, AHA or any kind of skin peel may not be used, as they will fade and possibly distort the procedure area.

> Sun block should always be applied (SPF 60 recommended), and a hat/sunglasses should be worn for the first few days if sun exposure is longer than 30 minutes.

> After your brows heal, a touch-up appointment WILL be needed; the process is not considered complete without it! Your brows may lose anywhere from 20-60% of the pigment. Your touch-up appointment should be booked 4-6 weeks after your initial appointment.
